Draw a huge wave on your page inspired by the music (1.). Decide whether it is - smooth or jagged?

big or small?

tall or short?

long and thin or compact and fat?

You should also decide carefully which colour/s to use. Don't take too long on it.

Play the full orchestra performance again and this time you must write the following list, perhaps on another sheet of paper (2.) -

1 colour

1 emotion

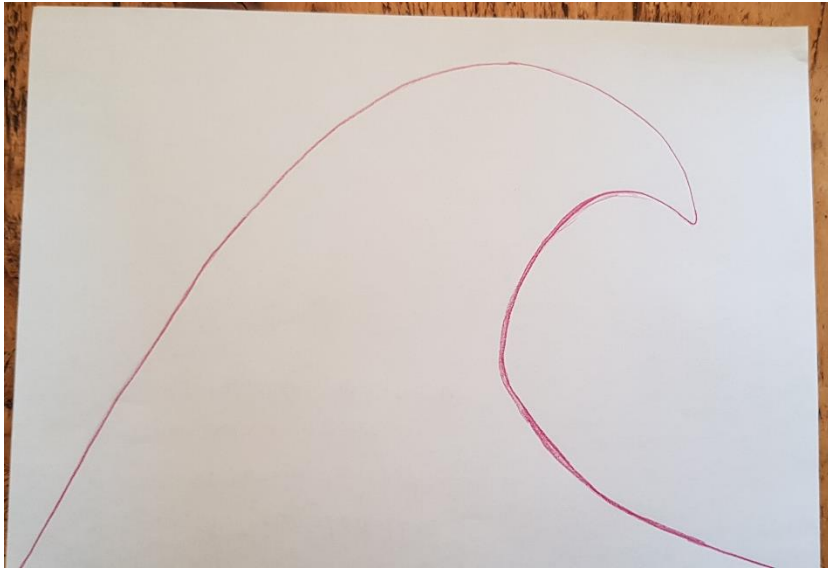

1 noun

1 adjective

Think about these questions: 'what colour is the music?', 'how does it make me feel?' etc.

Listen to the full orchestral performance one more time and write your words directly onto your wave picture, following the line of the wave and placing the words carefully – perhaps the most important word should be placed at the most important place on the wave (3.).

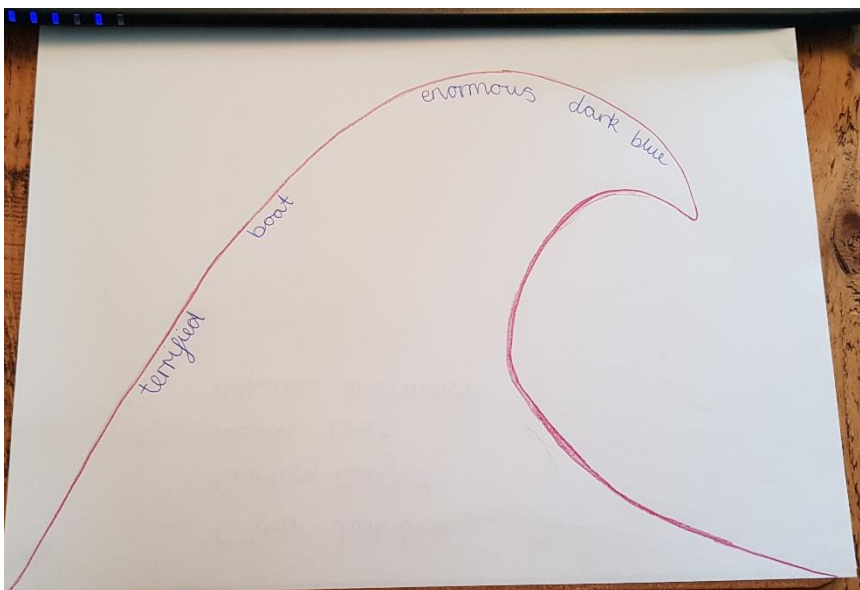

Finally, use small words (connectives, conjunctions) to link your words together along the wave so that they create one line of poetry. (4.)

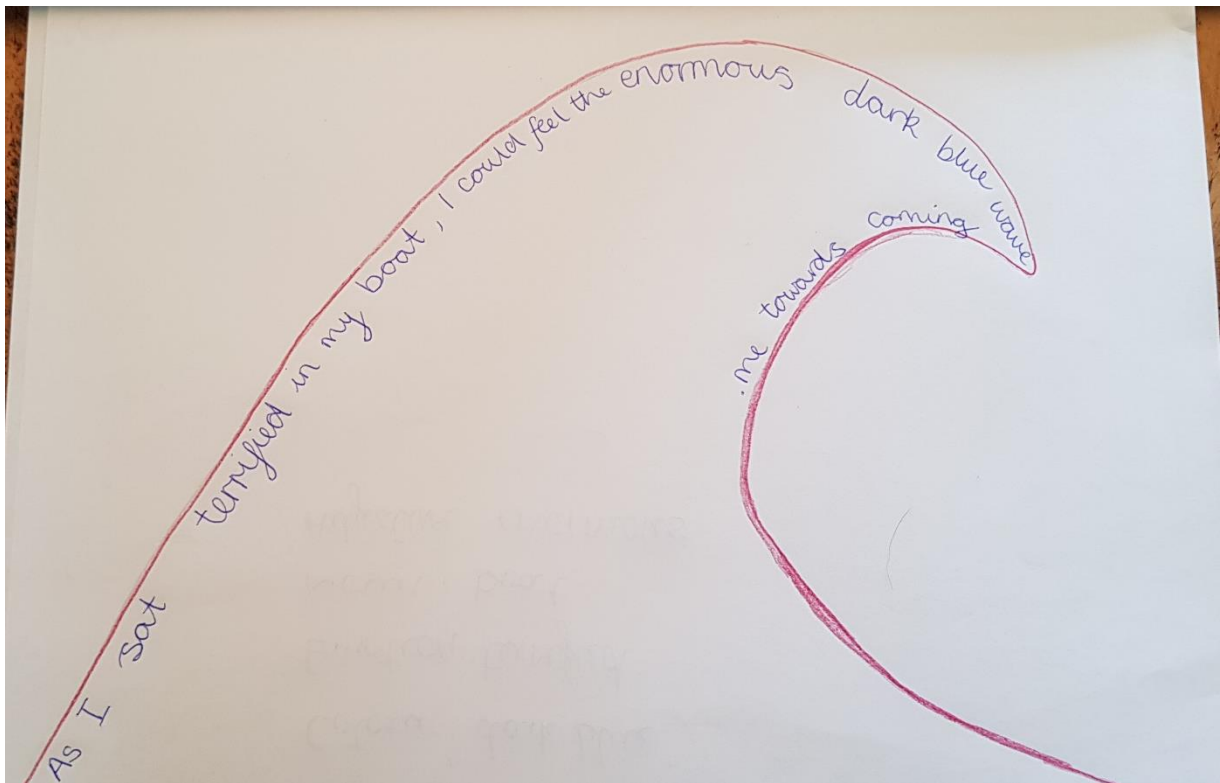

1.

Colour : dark blue
Emotion: terrified
Noun : boat
Adjective : enormous

2.

3.

4.

As I sat terrified in my boat, I could feel the enormous dark blue wave coming towards me.
