

Year 3 English

Lesson 5

L.O: to learn common exception words and use them correctly in sentences

When we were at school, your teacher would have split you into groups for weekly spellings and homework. You are going to be doing exactly the same as what you would normally do for your homework in this lesson.

In your books, you need to write:

- The definition for each word in your group
- Write a sentence using each of the words.

Group A	Group B	Group C
extreme continue disappear describe consider	potatoes probably pressure question reign	remember regular separate therefore surprise

If you can't remember which group you are in try and judge which level might be appropriate for you.

Your work should be presented like this:

Friday 4th July 2020

L.O. To learn common exception words and use them correctly in sentences

surprise: something unexpected - something done or happening unexpectedly

I have organised a special surprise for my son's birthday.
